He it was who brought the charges against Tseng-kwo-fan, for which that magnate was cited to appear before the Court at Peking and answer, but which he refused to do and consequently assumed a position which could only be prevented from drifting into rebellion by

The gravamon of the churge against Tseng kwo fon was that he had disbanded troops, of the Taipings being driven from the valley of the Yangtezo, whose services were much required in other parts of the Empire-and it would appear that San-ko-lin-sin's prognostications have been singularly verified. His brother has been degraded. Agent to London, F. significatily ramarked; should the force employed fall abort of a sufficient numerical strength to effect the defeat of the Nien-fei, the responsibility he doors of Tseng-kwo-inn. As will be seen presently, there are now three serious insurgent movements doyastating the mium, quoted. Empire, and it is hardly probable under present circumstances, that Teong-kwo-fon will head a fourth-because he cortainly would sacrifice all his popularity if he did, and have the other three movements on his hands in addition. Benides. he knows perfectly well that the British radial scheme secures to the Imperial povernment the treaty ports and the Costom revenue, and therefore there is neither hope of the reform of existing abuses, nor the attainment of his ambitious

But the most interesting feature in the case is this. The Putai Li, of Boochow notoriety, was corntary to Tseng-kwo-fan, and is his mos devoted creature. It may be necessary to explain that Li is the Governor of the province of Kinng-su (in which Shanghai stands), and is the immediate sphordinate of Taeng-kwo-fan who is the Viceroy of the Two-Kinng. Now Li has at his immediate disposal a very effective disciplined force, comprising at least, two excellent artillery corps These are in a far more effective state than they have ever yet been, and are not only well organised, but are commanded by tried and trustworthy foreigners. On the requisition being made this to send a pertion of this force to Amoy to operate on Chang-chow, he sent only one regiment of disciplined tropps, no regular artillery and a miss of rabble. He clearly retained arge disciplined force for some emergency and when it is stated that the force he has retained i quite enpable of put ing the Nienfel to flight like heep, the patriotism or at all events, the loyalty, The Nienfei are a miserable rabble whom handful of disciplined Troops would disperse. Yet the Imperial force under San-ko-lin-sin, cannot whilst the Footsi Li should have report to foreign military organisation, and keep as it were in the strength to march through the Empire, that the Imperial government, after seeing that foreign tactics alone drove the Taipings from the valley of the Yangteze, should go on in their old style marauding mob.

and organise their armies on the principle of a It is clear therefore that the ignorance of the Imperial government is being imposed upon by Tseng-kwo-fan, and as no one knows botter than rings Kung how acquasary a reform in the military organisation of the Empire is, it would appear that he also was in the plot, Beyond all this however, a serious offair has happened, which shoul! destroy all confidence in Hongkong, 1st March, 1805; the Imperial Government. The troops (Imperial) of General Paon at Tsung-yang, situate about one hundred miles from Hankow, mutinied in consequence of the pay due to them having been refused. They proceeded to rob and plunder all they could lay their hands on, and murdered ab u three thousand people, a Brigadier and a Colone heing amongst the number. On the 6th Inst. they appear to have taken Tsung Yang (a districk city) and still occupied it on the 9th. large portion of them then marched off in the diection of Kinng-scand a number o country people join the Taiping rebels. The probability is that rousen too, at Kewking and Hankow amongst the foreigners resident at those ports. In fact the accounts are so alarming that it is difficult to comprehend them. The mutineers menneed both places, their wrath apparently being principally directed against foreigners. Why they did not attack the foreign quarter at Kowkiang does not appear, but they would have attacked the foreign quarter at Hankow but for the p csence of a ring seem to have no force at their disposal but gressive towards foreigners. There have already been collisions, and nothing but esnelliation and forbearance on the part of foreigners have prevented a serious outbreak. As for matters in the Fuhkian Province-the Tainings have evacuated Chang-chow and it is not very clear, where they have gone to. The communioation between that city and the sea-bord being out off by the British radial schemologid the of no further use to them. So little were they pressed by the "besieging" force, and so cleverly did they manage, that the evacuation was not known to the Imperialists for some days after it Some European missionaries lately penetrated nto the adjouring province of Kwang-si. Except within the precincts of the walled cities anarchy The case of extradition referred to in last report as having been made by the Honghang au-thorities to the Canton Mandarins of a Taiping good deal of popular indignation. It would appear that the local authorities have not only read power whatever to moddle in the matter, no Ordinance ever having been passed to enable them to roaty. The sad part of the story is the mode of lehment for which is decapitation. The surrendor was made through the British Consul at Canon, who in giving the man op to the Mandarins notified that the accused ought to bayen fair trini, and that he wished to know when the same would tuke place as he would make it a duty to watch the proceedings. Whether a reply was or was not received is not known, but the prisoner was taken to the execution ground, tied to a cross andwas cut by the noting Governor of this Ottony, under When at length death released the victim his oreumstances which had excited popular indig heart was cut out and the soldiers mustered around ato it; after which the head was cut offthe idea in the commission of the two last barbsrous acts being that the deceased should appear in one of the most common forms of blind trading is that which presents itself to the mind, when we reflect on a practice scrupulously observed by all safe bankers, and soldom or ever thought of in the every-day walks of commerce. The safe banker has his eyes open, and not merely open, but they are upon the past and future, as well as upon the present. With most men of business there is no consideration of the past, and the future does not trouble them beyond the retirement of acceptances which fall due on the recurring 4th. With most men of business the present is the absorbing care. "Eat. drink, and be merry," and " sufficient for the day is the evil thereof," are standard business maxims from Cornhill to the circumference of the six or twelve mile circle.
